Children of the Revolution

Written and Arranged by Amy Woodburn Lyrics by Amy Woodburn Sung by Lizzie Freeborn Produced and Arranged by Gareth Young, Cube Recording

My best friend's Dad Says I belong in class Skipping school's not normal Lying on cold ground It's not what I had planned It's hardly school formal

The children of the revolution We never knew normal We were only just waiting For the bomb, bomb, bomb For the bomb, bomb, bomb. We never knew normal Only just waiting.

What's that he said 'Got my whole life ahead' Yeah I'm feeling that. Where's the will to be kind? We're leaving men behind Is this who we are?

The children of the revolution We never knew normal We were only just waiting For the bomb, bomb, bomb For the bomb, bomb, bomb. We never knew normal Only just waiting.

Guys are you struggling to perceive the threat or its size Just cause today its not falling from planes form the skies.

What's that he said 'Got my whole life ahead' Yeah I'm feeling that. Where's the will to be kind? We're leaving men behind Is this who we are?

The children of the revolution We never knew normal We were only just waiting For the bomb, bomb, bomb For the bomb, bomb, bomb. We never knew normal Only just waiting.
